DOES YOUR WIFE HAVE BAD PAINS EVERY MONTH?

Thoughtful Husbands Can Help Her Banish Such Misery Next Time.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY DOES THE WORK QUICK

Thousands of women suffer agony each month at menstruation time with awful cramps, pains and headaches caused originally by fashions, weakness or some nervous condition, cold, etc. which makes those tiny internal muscles pull up tight, torture and cramp them as well as retard the free, easy, natural flow. Such suffering, agony, misery, haggard old looks and hours of torture in bed each month are unnatural and unnecessary. A simple, harmless little home remedy quickly relaxes those muscles, and banishes all signs of the misery in just a few minutes. Come down to the drug store. Ask about Adams' Wonder Capsules. Take her home a bottle. Thousands of women and girls use them, and if three doses taken a few minutes apart with swallows of water fail to completely relieve your wife of every sign of pain, misery and suffering—we will gladly refund taken a rew minutes apart with swallows of water fail to completely relieve your wife of every sign of pain, misery and suffering—we will gladly refund the money. A bottle lasts months. Results come quick. (See guarantee on each package). Perhaps she has hesitated buying them herself. Surprise her by this thoughtful deed. Have them handy next time. casting.

In a statement issued recently, Postmaster General Hubert Work asked all employes of the Postoffice Department to take advantage of the broadcasting system to send out information to the public regarding the mail service. The statement follows: "There are great possibilities in broadcasting postal information through the radio telephone. Postmasters, railway mail officials and postoffice inspectors should plan 107 its use wherever available in prepara-tion for 'Postal Improvement Week.' Every branch of the service should be explained, so that the proper view-point of the public may be obtained in connection with our appeals for co-operation. Remember that school boys and girls are 'listening-in' on message, and they are a po tential aid in postal improvement.

'The first talk might be entitled The Travels of a Letter.' Start with the letter when mailed at the street corner letter box. At this point emphasize looking at the letter before mailing; thence picked up by the car-rier, dumped on the traveling belt which conveys it to the facing table. Here emphasize the value of proper facing of the letters and the use of proper sizes of envelopes. Describe the canceling machine's operation. also mention short-paid postage, dead letters, etc.; thence to the mail distributer, where the opportunity is pre-sented to steak about proper ad-dressing, and so on throughout the whole travel of the letter, bringing in, in each handling, our appeals to day at St. Paul's Episcopal Church the public.

"Following this other talks should Burial be given on the different branches of the service in a similar way, which will enable the public to grasp our appeals for co-operation."

RADIO IS CLEARED

Accidents are often wrongly at-tributed to radio. For instance, while stringing an aerial recently. while stringing an aerial recently, an amateur came in contact with Sunday afternoon at Leesburg. several high-power electric light wires. He was severely burned and nearly lost his life. It is very apparent, however, that nothing connected with radio was responsible for the actual damage done. The danger incident to erecting aerials in the vicinity of powers. aerials in the vicinity of power lines is the basis for a law pro-hibiting such erection across or in the immediate neighborhood of light or trolley wires.

It is desirable from the radio operators' standpoint that aerial wires be as far removed from power lines as possible and at right angles to them.

RADIO ENTHUSIAST

The majority of receiving stations now in use have been constructed by amateurs or assembled from parts obtained from the United States, but as American firms are oversold, much difficulty has been experienced in get-ting deliveries on orders placed in this country.

The proximity of Cuba to the broadcasting facilities of the United States adds to the possibilities for developing a market there for radio
